Introduction

We are where Africa, the Americas, Europe and the Middle East meet.

Founded in 1970, the Department of African and African-American Studies seeks to educate students to function in a multicultural environment and in a global community. The objective of the Master of Arts program in African and African-American Studies at the University of Kansas is to produce scholars, teachers, administrators, and other professionals who have the intellectual and scholarly capacity and skills to make ongoing contributions to the world in which they live. Our graduate program encourages students to adopt a critical perspective requiring an integrative approach to the study of history, politics, economics, the arts, languages, culture, anthropology, and geography that does not abstract them from their political and social contexts, but rather relocates them within the social and political contexts from which they developed. Students are required to focus not only on the experiences of Africans and African-Americans, but also on the links of those experiences to the cultural, political, and economic forces of the larger world to which Africans and African-Americans have been, and are, inextricably connected. To this end, educators, journalists, the military, administrators, law enforcement agents, and other professionals who wish to function more effectively and efficiently in a connected, multicultural and global world will find our M.A. program accommodating and educative.

Admission Procedures and Requirements

Prospective students are admitted to the M.A. program for the fall semester. The deadline to submit applications is May 1st, but prospective students are advised to apply much earlier. Online applications can be completed and submitted through the KU Graduate Studies website (http://www.graduate.ku.edu). Contact the Graduate Secretary at (785) 864-3054 or afs@ku.edu for questions.

Admission requirements include:

1. A completed application form (application fees apply)
2. All academic transcripts (transcripts should be uploaded and attached to the online application; please mail an official transcript to the department as well)
3. Personal Statement of Purpose explaining your academic objectives (this should be an effective essay exploring the student’s intellectual interests, why she/he is interested in African and African-American Studies, and future academic and career plans)
4. Three letters of recommendation from qualified individuals, preferring most recent professors
5. Sample of your writing – a paper from a previous course should be satisfactory
6. Graduate Record Examination (GRE) scores (results must be forwarded to the Graduate Application Processing Center; KU code when submitting GRE scores is: 6871)
7. TOEFL scores (if student’s native language is not English)
8. International applications: Affidavit of financial support indicating the annual financial resources available for graduate study
Transcript, the statement of purpose, and writing sample can be uploaded and attached to the online application. Letters of recommendation can also be an online process. Directions on doing so can be found on the Graduate Studies website.

All listed items above must be submitted in order for your application to be completed and considered for admission into the program. When an application file is complete, the members of the African and African-Studies department committee will review the file and determine if the student is to be admitted into the program. The Graduate School will notify the applicant of the decision. Admission is based primarily on the applicant’s undergraduate and/or graduate record, statement of academic objectives or purpose, and academic references from individuals familiar with the applicant’s work. Completion of a bachelor’s degree is required, preferably in the arts, social sciences, education, or humanities.

Applicants must have at least a 3.0 grade-point average in their previous academic work to be admitted to regular graduate student status. In exceptional cases, students with less than a 3.0 grade-point average are admitted to the program on either a provisional or a probationary basis.

Non-degree seeking applicants must meet the admission requirements of regular admission status but the applicant does not intend to work for an advanced degree at the time of admission. If a non-degree student later applies for admission as a regular degree-seeking student, and is accepted by a department, the total credit may not exceed six (6) hours or eight (8) hours if the student holds a baccalaureate degree from KU (this total includes credit from other accredited graduate schools as well as non-degree credit earned at KU). A non-degree admission application can be completed and submitted through the Graduate Studies website.

M.A. Program Requirements

The Department of African and African-American Studies offers an interdisciplinary substantive and language courses leading to the Master of Arts degree in two areas of concentration: (1) African, and (2) African-American studies. The program is designed to take two years of full-time study.

Students must take a minimum of thirty-three (33) graduate-level credit hours in approved courses with African and/or African-American content in accordance with the concentration chosen. Nine upper-division and graduate courses, in addition to a thesis or additional course work for a non-thesis option, are required for the degree.

Core Courses / Thesis

Students, regardless of concentration, are required to take four core courses (12 credit hours) and 6 credit hours of thesis:
• AAAS 801: Introduction to Africana Studies: African-American (3)
  An introduction to, and overview of, the historical, intellectual, and professional foundations of African-American Studies; a multidisciplinary examination of the key texts and issues in the field. LEC

• AAAS 802: Introduction to Africana Studies: African (3)
  An introduction to, and overview of, the historical, intellectual, and professional foundations of African Studies; a multidisciplinary examination of the key texts and issues in the field. LEC

• AAAS 803: Research Methods in Africana Studies (3)
  A multidisciplinary introduction to the range of research methods employed to examine African and African-American history, cultures, and societies. LEC

• AAAS 804: Seminar in Africana Studies (3)
  An interdisciplinary, comparative exploration of the histories, cultures, and societies of Africans and peoples of African descent. Students will be required to utilize the skills gained in AAAS 801 and 802 to design and implement a project that will be critically assessed in the seminar. Prerequisite: AAAS 801 and AAAS 802 or consent of instructor. SEM

• AAAS 899: Thesis (6) – No more than 6 thesis hours may be applied toward the 33 credit hours.
  Investigation and research of a topic for a master’s thesis. THE

• Non-thesis option: A non-thesis option of six (6) credit hours of course work and research papers in one’s area of concentration is also available. If this option is chosen, the student will take two (2) more courses, each of which will have two large research-oriented essays for their final projects.

Elective Courses in Area of Specialization

Students choose five courses (15 credit hours) in their areas of specialization. Students may take 6 credit hours outside the department in related course offerings. Approved elective courses will normally be in the humanities and social sciences, but courses in the natural sciences and in the professional schools may be approved if the content is deemed appropriate and relevant.

Language/Research Skills Requirement

Students will fulfill a language/research skills requirement in accordance with the concentration chosen. Language/research skills courses must be at the 500 level or above to be counted toward the 33 hours required for the degree.

A master's degree in African & African-American Studies with an African Studies concentration requires proficiency in an African language. Proficiency may be fulfilled by one of the following:

- Completing two (2) years of college-level language study at KU, at an equivalent institution, or through an intensive course. Language courses offered on a regular basis at KU that count toward proficiency are Amharic, Arabic, Hausa, KiSwahili, Wolof, and any one of the number of African languages for which the Kansas African Studies Center has pedagogical materials and proficiency-testing capabilities.
- The equivalent of two (2) years of an approved language.
- Proof that the student is a native speaker of an African language.

A master’s degree in African and African-American studies with an African-American Studies concentration requires that a student:

- Fulfill the African language requirement outlined above, or

- Fulfill a non-African language requirement employing standards comparable to those governing the African language requirement outlined above, or

- Demonstrate competence in a research skill relevant to the student's specific concentration in African-American studies. Competence in a research skill is certified by the department’s graduate studies director.

In consultation with their advisers and to the satisfaction of the department, students must demonstrate that their choice of a language or research skill is appropriate for their specific research interest in the field of African-American studies.

Advising and Committees

The Graduate Director normally advises entering graduate students. By the end of the first year, and preferably sooner, each student should ask a faculty member to serve as his/her advisor and notify the program’s Graduate Secretary of the faculty member identified so that it may be documented in the student's file. The faculty advisor will work closely with the student to develop a coherent plan of study, which should be in writing and included in the student’s file as early as possible in the student's graduate career. Advisors may be changed during the progress of the student's program.

By the end of the third semester, the student should choose a thesis committee. The committee must include a minimum of three (3) graduate faculty members. The chair and at least one (1) other member of this committee must be from the African & African-American Studies graduate faculty. The chair cannot be a member of the adjunct or courtesy African & African-American Studies faculty. As soon as the committee has been formed, the student must submit, in writing, the names of members to the graduate director for approval. After approval, the information is placed in the student’s file. Any changes to the committee must be approved and documented.

Thesis Defense

A final defense of the thesis is required. A student should be in good standing (3.0 GPA or higher) before scheduling the thesis defense. The defense is administered by a committee of at least three (3) members of the graduate faculty. This committee should be assembled and named by the end of the third semester. One member shall act as chairperson and will, among other tasks, ensure that the student and all members of the committee share a common understanding of the objectives, substance, and methods of the project throughout its course. In order to complete the degree in two (2) years, students should develop their subject area during their first year in the program, and should formulate their thesis topic in conjunction with their faculty advisor during the third semester. During their final semester, the student should enroll in AAAS 899: Thesis. It is the responsibility of the student to confer with the committee chairperson to determine a process and establish a timeline for the completion of the thesis.

The thesis defense is held during the semester of the student’s final enrollment in course work. It should be held when the thesis has been substantially completed and has been given approval by the committee. The date and time of the defense must be set and submitted to the Graduate Director and Graduate Secretary at least three (3) weeks prior to the planned date. Deadlines to defend are posted on the Graduate Studies calendar and must be met in order to graduate. Students must complete the “Graduate Requirement Checklist” (included in this handbook) and submit the form to the Graduate Secretary. This documentation will be kept in the student’s file.

At least two calendar weeks prior to the defense date, the student will submit the final draft of the thesis to all the committee members and inform the graduate director. Failure to meet this deadline, without prior approval from the chair and graduate director, will necessitate rescheduling the defense.

A thesis defense includes both questions about the thesis topic, argument, and methodology, as well as questions that discuss the thesis within large contexts of the field.

After a successful defense, a student must submit his or her thesis in an electronic version to the Graduate Studies Division of the Office of Research and Graduate Studies (RGS), as well as to the Department, in order to fulfill graduation requirements. Instructions, guidelines, and deadlines for submitting the thesis may be found at the Graduate Studies ETD (Electronic Thesis and Dissertation) website: http://www.graduate.ku.edu/04-02_etd.shtml

It is the responsibility of the student to bring to his or her defense a printed copy of the Title Page and Acceptance Page. These two pages must be signed by the appropriate committee members and submitted to the Graduate Secretary. The correct format and layout for these may be found at: http://www.clas.ku.edu/coga/graduation/masters

All graduate students must be enrolled the semester they complete the program. Students who complete degree requirements during the first week of summer session or within the first two weeks of the fall or spring semester are not required to be enrolled for that term unless they were not enrolled during the previous semester.

Application for Degree / Graduation

* A student who wishes to complete a master's degree at the University of Kansas must complete all the requirements toward the degree within seven (7) years of the time of the initial enrollment in the program.

Early in the semester in which they expect to complete the program, students should complete an Application for Degree online through Enroll and Pay, as well as submit all other necessary paperwork including thesis, title page and acceptance page signed by all committee members, and an Electronic Thesis & Dissertation (ETD) Release Form. Deadlines to submit the Application for Degree and other paperwork are posted each semester on the Graduate Studies website.

For information regarding the Master's Hooding Ceremony, visit the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences (CLAS) website: http://clas.ku.edu/students/hooding/index.shtml. Students must complete a registration form and purchase regalia by the suggested date posted on the website. A faculty mentor or advisor should be chosen to hood the student at the ceremony.

Students will not be eligible for graduation if they have an “Incomplete” grade. Graduate students must make sure that the Incomplete is changed prior to their thesis defense.

Semi-Annual Review

The academic progress of all graduate students will be reviewed each semester. Grades, advancement in requirements, progress on the thesis, and overall performance will be evaluated by faculty members of the department. The outcome of the evaluation will be communicated in writing to the student by the Graduate Director. A copy of the evaluation and any recommendations will be placed in the student's file.

Probation

A graduate student will be placed on probation whenever the student's committee or the graduate faculty determines that academic progress is unsatisfactory. Major reasons for probation include but are not restricted to:

- Failure to maintain an overall cumulative grade-point average of B (3.0)
- Failure to name a committee by the end of the third semester of graduate study
- Failure to complete the requirements for the M.A. degree within the amount of time limited
- Multiple grades of “Incomplete” (“I”) ; or after receiving the third concurrent “Incomplete” (“I”)
- Consensus by the graduate faculty that the student is not making satisfactory progress toward a degree
The Graduate Director will provide written notice to those placed on probation. A copy of this writing will be placed in the student's file. In addition, specific requirements which must be met to return to regular graduate status will be outlined.

Dismissal

Low grade-point average, failure of examinations or failures to make satisfactory progress toward the degree are cause for dismissal from the program.

Grievance / Grade Appeal

Grievance and grade appeal procedures can be found in the By-Laws of the Department of African and African-American Studies (http://afs.ku.edu/bylaws.pdf).

Graduate Teaching Assistant (GTA) Appointments

Graduate Teaching Assistant appointments are available within the department. A GTA must be enrolled in no fewer than six (6) credit hours per semester, be in good academic standing, and have satisfied any and all English proficiency criteria. Depending on the level of appointment, the university pays all or some of the GTA’s tuition and campus fees. More information can be found on the Graduate Studies website (www.graduate.ku.edu/03-08_Info_Departments.shtml).

Graduate students who are appointed to a GTA position must complete necessary trainings provided by the Office of Graduate Studies, as well as complete and sign a contract with the department. GTAs will be observed within the classroom and evaluated for the fall and spring semesters by a faculty member. At this time, graduate students in AAAS are offered an appointment for only one (1) academic year, normally in their second year, subject to availability of funds.

Please contact the Graduate Secretary for appointment opportunities.

Funding and Awards

Funding and award opportunities can be found on the Graduate Studies website: (http://www.graduate.ku.edu/02-00_abt_funding.shtml).

The AAAS department offers the Graduate Student Research Award ($100), Graduate Student Service Award ($100), and GTA/Lecture Teaching-Related Service Award ($100). Recommendations for such awards will be made by faculty and staff. Please contact the Graduate Secretary for more information.

The Kansas African Studies Center (KASC) and the Center for Global and International Studies (CGIS) administer Foreign Language and Area Studies (FLAS) Scholarship awards. For information, visit the KASC (www.kasc.ku.edu) website and CGIS website (www.global.ku.edu).
African & African-American Studies Core Faculty

Shawn Leigh Alexander (Ph.D., University of Massachusetts – Amherst) is an Associate Professor of African and African-American Studies and Courtesy Assistant Professor of History. His research focuses on African-American social and intellectual history, and his areas of teaching interest include Black intellectual thought, civil rights and African-American social and cultural history. He is well-published and has held teaching positions at the University of Massachusetts, Amherst College, Gettysburg College, and Yale University (where he was the first Cassius Marcellus Clay Fellow). He is also the graduate coordinator and Interim Director of the Langston Hughes African-American Studies Center (LHC).

Anthony Bolden (Ph.D., Louisiana State University) is an Associate Professor of African and African-American Studies. His teaching and research interests include African-American music, African-American cultural studies, popular culture, African literature, and ethnic-American literature. He has published extensively on Funk and Blues. Dr. Bolden has previously taught at the University of Alabama, University of Iowa, and Dillard University.

Naima Boussofara (Ph.D., University of Texas) is an Associate Professor of African and African-American Studies. Dr. Boussofara's research and publications are in sociolinguistics with a special focus on diglossia, language, and contact and change in the Arab world. She teaches Arabic and Arabic culture, and is the Director of the KU Arabic Summer Institute of Morocco.

Cécile Accilien (Ph.D., Tulane University) Cécile Accilien is Associate Professor of Haitian Studies and Director of the Institute of Haitian Studies in the Department of African and African-American Studies. Her primary areas of interest include Haitian Studies, Gender Studies and Film Studies.

Abel Chikanda (Ph.D., University of Western Ontario) is an Assistant Professor of African & African-American Studies and Geography. His main research and teaching interests include migration and development, refugee movement, food security, and the informal sector in Africa. He has held teaching positions at several universities in Canada including Western University, Queen's University and the University of Waterloo.

Jessica Gerschultz (Ph.D., Emory University) is an Assistant Professor of African & African-American Studies. Dr. Gerschultz’s research and teaching areas cover modern and contemporary art in Africa and the Middle East, the linkages between textiles, gender, and materiality, and the sociopolitical dynamics of artists’ networks. She has conducted comparative fieldwork in Tunisia, Senegal, Switzerland, Kenya, and Oman. She has taught courses on modern and contemporary African art, Islamic art and architecture in Africa, and the arts of eastern and southern Africa.
Jennifer Hamer (Ph.D., University of Texas-Austin) is a Full Professor of American Studies, and African & African-American Studies. The editor of a journal, Dr. Hamer is well-published. Her research and teaching interests include Black families, Black women activism, Black fatherhood, and equity. She has previously taught at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, where she was an Associate Dean of the Graduate School and Chair of African-American Studies Department.

Randal Jelks (Ph.D., Michigan State University) is an Associate Professor of American Studies and African and African-American Studies. He is a historian whose research focuses on African-American religious, urban, and civil rights history. His areas of teaching interest include the civil rights movement, the Black experience in America, and African-American religions. He is well-published and has taught at Calvin College. He was a Langston Hughes Visiting Professor at KU and a Rockefeller Foundation Fellow at the Research Park Triangle in North Carolina.

Clarence Lang (Ph.D., University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign) is an Associate Professor of African & African-American Studies at The University of Kansas. His research and teaching areas are African American working-class and labor history, the Black Freedom Movement, and black urban communities in the twentieth-century Midwest. He is well published and has taught at University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign and a former Langston Hughes Visiting Professor at KU. He is also the Undergraduate Coordinator.

Elizabeth MacGonagle (Ph.D., Michigan State University) is an Associate Professor of History and African and African-American Studies. Dr. MacGonagle’s research and publications draw on African oral histories and archival documents to examine ethnicity in southern Africa, and the state of historical sites in West Africa, especially Ghana. Her teaching interests include introduction to African history, modern African history, and a focus on gender and issues of peace and justice.

Beverly Mack (Ph.D., University of Wisconsin – Madison) is a Professor of African and African-American Studies and Courtesy Professor of Religious Studies. She is the honors and undergraduate coordinator. Dr. Mack’s numerous publications focus on women in Islam, the region of Northern Nigeria, and Hausa culture and language. She teaches courses on Islam, Islamic Literature, African Literature, and Hausa. She is director of the Kansas African Studies Center. She holds the Mortar Board Outstanding Educator Award.

Peter Ojiambo (Ph.D., University of Ohio) is an Assistant Professor of African and African-American Studies. His research focuses on African education, especially in studies on the Starehe Boys Center and School of Kenya. He has published in this area and on education, democracy, and development. His area of teaching is KiSwahili and African languages, and he has developed a KiSwahili teaching website. Dr. Ojiambo has held teaching positions at Ohio University and the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. He is the language coordinator.
Dorthy Pennington (Ph.D., University of Kansas) is an Associate Professor of African and African-American Studies and Communication Studies. Dr. Pennington’s research and publications focus on international communication, communication between African-American women and men, and African-American cultural studies. She also teaches in these areas. She holds the National Communication Association Distinguished Teaching Award and the Steeples Service to Kansans Award.

Peter Ukpokodu (Ph.D., University of Kansas) is the chair of the Department of African and African-American Studies. He is a Professor of African and African-American Studies and Courtesy Professor of Theatre. Dr. Ukpokodu’s teaching, research, and numerous publications include African and African-American theatre and film and African traditional religion and culture. He holds the Kemper Fellowship Teaching Excellence and the Center for Teaching Excellence Award.

Master’s Degree Checklist – Thesis Option

Please check the websites/FAQs listed below for further information. If you have additional questions, you may contact the College Office of Graduate Affairs (COGA) located in 108 Strong Hall (coga@ku.edu).

Please complete items 1, 2, and 3 online.

_____ 1) Apply for Degree (AFD)
Apply for the degree through Enroll & Pay: https://sa.ku.edu/. Instructions can be found here: http://www.registrar.ku.edu/current/graduation.shtml#apply.

_____ 2) Electronic Thesis Submission
- Submit the PDF version of your thesis to the UMI/Proquest submission site: http://www.etdadmin.com/
- Thesis formatting guidelines can be found here: http://www.graduate.ku.edu/-downloads/ETD/ETD%20Thesis%20Guidelines_10.22.10.pdf
- Your submission will be checked for formatting and completeness by the COGA. You will be notified via email after graduation if the work is accepted or needs revisions.

_____ 3) Fees paid to UMI/Proquest (if applicable)
- There is no longer a submission fee as of 9/27/10.
- There is an optional copyright fee of $55. You may also order bound copies for an additional cost.

Please submit items 4 and 5 to the COGA Office located in Strong Hall 108.

_____ 4) Title page and Acceptance page
- Title page requires all committee members’ signatures.
- Acceptance page requires only committee chairperson’s signature.
- These pages must comply with the formatting guidelines. Please see the following links for templates: http://www.graduate.ku.edu/04-02_etd.shtml?FormattingInstructions

_____ 5) ETD Release Form
- Please review and sign the form: http://www.graduate.ku.edu/-downloads/ETD/ETD%20release%20form%2010_7_10.pdf
- If you need to place an embargo on your thesis, you must also obtain your Department Graduate Director’s original signature.

* Please also check with your department to verify that you met all academic requirements.

Please check the websites and FAQs below for further information.

FAQ

Q: Can I mail my documents to the COGA?

A: Yes. Please use the following address.

   College Office of Graduate Affair
   University of Kansas
   Strong Hall
   1450 Jayhawk Blvd., Room 200
   Lawrence, KS 66045-7535

Q: Will you accept a scanned copy or fax of my documents?

A: No. We must receive all original documents.

Q: Is there a graduation ceremony for the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences Master’s degree candidates?

A: Yes. All candidates for Master’s degrees are invited to register and participate in the May ceremony. More information about the ceremony and how to register is available at http://clas.ku.edu/students/hooding/index.shtml.

Q: What is an embargo, and should I place one on my work?

A: Embargos are generally advised if you have a publishing agreement for your entire manuscript, or if your research is of a sensitive nature. Embargos can only be granted with the signature endorsement of your Graduate Director on your ETD Release form. By signing, your director agrees that your submission will be held from public access for up to 2 years. More information about embargos can be found here: http://www.graduate.ku.edu/04-02_etd_embargo.shtml.

Q: How is copyrighting, and should I copyright my work?

A: You are advised to copyright your work, but it’s not mandatory. UMI can file a copyright on your behalf with the Library of Congress for a $55 fee.

Q: How can I obtain a formal document which states I have completed all requirements and will soon be awarded the degree?

A: Once you complete all requirements for the degree, you may request a Statement of Forthcoming Degree from the Registrar’s Office. Bring the form to the COGA (108 Strong Hall) to request the Dean’s signature. The form can be found here: http://www.registrar.ku.edu/pdf/forthcomingdegree.pdf

You also have the option to request a letter from the COGA which states that requirements were met and the degree will be awarded. Please send requests with the recipient address to coga@ku.edu.

Q: What is the difference between ‘Open Access’ and ‘Traditional’ publishing on the UMI submission website?

A: We advise you to choose Traditional Publishing when making your submission. Traditional publishing will allow access to your dissertation by anyone who has access to the KU Library ScholarWorks Archives, including the general public. There is no additional fee for the service. Similarly, UMI’s ‘Open Access’ publishing option is available to anyone with access to their website, only you will pay an additional $95.00 fee.

Q: Which companies provide binding services?

A: Please visit the Graduate Studies website for recommended binding companies:
http://www.graduate.ku.edu/04-02_etd.shtml?ThesisandDissertationBindinInstructions

Q: Will COGA check my submission before the graduation deadline?

A: Generally, COGA begins checking submissions near the end of the semester. If time allows, your submission may be checked earlier. The COGA Supervisor sets the date to begin the process based on other functions of the COGA staff.

You will receive an email notification advising you whether there are recommended changes needed. You will be given a deadline to complete the changes, once a review of your submission is completed.

If you have additional questions, you may contact the College Office of Graduate Affairs (COGA) located in 108 Strong Hall (coga@ku.edu).
