Fall 2017 COURSE OUTLINES

Updated 8/7/2017

AAAS 102 Arabic and Islamic Studies MW 12:30 -01:45 PM WES= 4023 Ghazali

An introduction to the study of Islam and the Arabic language in relation to Islamic cultures in Africa, the Mediterranean region, and beyond. Topics covered include the historical origins of Islam in relation to the Arabic language and its cultures of origin. This course is interdisciplinary, including attention to the topic from the perspectives of historical unfolding of both the language and religion, geographic and cultural perspectives, political and economic concerns, and aesthetic perspectives, including literature and the arts.

AAAS 104 Intro African-American Studies MW 12:30-1:45 WES 4040 Bolden

Interdisciplinary introduction to the basic concepts and literature in the disciplines covered in African American Studies. Includes the social sciences, and humanities (including history, religion, and literature) as well as conceptual framework for investigation and analysis of Black history and culture and society.

AAAS 105 Intro to African History MW 11-12:15 PM WES 4002 Omwodo

This course introduces the history of the peoples and states of Africa. It begins with African civilizations in ancient times and runs through the present. It concentrates on people and civilizations indigenous to Africa. The origins of Islam, the Atlantic slave trade, and European explorers, missionaries, and colonialism receive attention mainly in their African aspects. The emphasis on Africa in this course provides a valuable alternative perspective on these, and other, seemingly familiar events. During the course we will also discuss historical links between Africa and the Americas, as well as contemporary American attitudes towards Africa, including perceptions and misperceptions in the West. You will leave the course knowing much more about Africa's history than what you get in newspapers, blogs, and television. This knowledge will be valuable to understand modern Africa and the world where we live. (Same as HIST 104)

AAAS 106 The Black Experience in the Americas TR 11-12:15PM WES 3139 Alexander

An interdisciplinary study of the history of the African peoples of the New World, relating their cultures and institutions to the African background and to their peculiar New World experiences up to and including the nineteenth century. While the main emphasis will be on the USA, attention will also be paid to the Caribbean and Latin America. Approaches will include demography, economics, social and political developments, literature, and music. LEC

AAAS 160 Introduction to West African History TR 08:00 -09:15 AM WES 4008 Omwodo

This course treats West African history through the first part of the twentieth century. The student is provided with a perspective on the major historical patterns that gave rise to West Africa's development as an integral part of world history. Special attention is paid to anthropological, geographical, and technological developments that influenced West African political and socioeconomic changes. (Same as HIST 160.)
